NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—A story is making the rounds today that Dixon's Rep. Charles K. Willett is under consideration for the post of chief highway engineer, a $15,000-a-year job being left vacant by the resignation of Frank N. Barker which becomes effective Aug. 31.

According to the story, Willett is among three under consideration. The others are Wesley Polk, Springfield, chief engineer under Gov. Green and Gov. Stevenson, and Robert Wallace, now associated with the office of the superintendent of the Cook county highway department.

Willett, contacted here today, was unaware that he was being considered and probably the official announcement will come when Gov. Stratton returns from a vacation. According to some sources he has the inside track for the job.

Two Dixon men were dawdling over their coffee cups yesterday and one said to the other,

"Well, tomorrow is my birthday."

Said the other, "It is? That's funny, tomorrow is my birthday, also."

Then came the inevitable: "By the way, how old are you? I'll be 51."

"I'll be 51, too," remarked the second man in astonishment.

So two "Happy Birthdays" today to "Hap" Yde and John Roe!

A contributor writes: "I ran across the following short verse by Ogden Nash the other day and thought it might be appropriate in regards to the City Council's recent billboard renting spree."

"I think that I shall never see
"A billboard as lovely as a tree.
"Indeed, unless the billboards
"fail,
"I'll never see a tree at all!"

Editor's Note: Too true! Too true!

A letter from our Mr. Darling:

"To The Lions Club and the Citizens of Dixon."

Dear Friends:

"Just a line to again thank you for the wonderful time you gave me in the old hometown. I shall never forget it. I have the key to the city hanging on the wall where it will remind me always of Darling Day. As I said before when I was with you, it was one of the happiest days of my life. Do believe me, I will come again and try and see you all, if the Lord is willing."

"Goodbye and God bless you each and every one of you. Give the mayor a kiss for me!"

Respectfully,
Harry B. Darling.

Two Dixon girls Monday duplicated the feat of four Dixon males by completing a four-mile swim from Lowell park to Dixon in the Rock River. And according to strictly unofficial records, the girls made the trip in a little less time.

The girls, Judy Carlson and Joyce Walker, set a time of about two and one-half hours. Dave Murphy, Paul Carlson, Bill Beamblossom and Jack Winder reportedly covered the distance in two hours and 15 minutes July 4.

Jane Fitzsimmons started Monday a swim with the two girls, but she developed a cramp after reaching the cement plant and had to give up the long distance trip.

Mrs. Allan (Kathy) Boyd accompanied the girls with a canoe.

Farm Prices Skid Again; U. S. Worried

Prices Drop 11 Per Cent While Food Declines Only Two Per Cent in Markets

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Skidding farm prices—set against the background of a record high cost of living—brings the whole farm problem to the fore again this week.

Wheat, cotton and corn—the big three crops from which come the nation's bread, clothing, meat, milk and eggs—are at a level of surplus which under the law can call for federal crop production controls.

Farm income this year, the government says, is running 11 per cent behind last year.

Two Percent Lower

At the grocery, however, the government reports that food prices generally are only about two per cent lower than last year.

A rise in food prices this summer helped push the government's measure of the cost of living to an all-time high.

The farmer might be getting even less if federal price supports hadn't come to his aid. In the fiscal year ended June 30, the U. S. Treasury put out 2½ billion dollars in support money, to which all taxpayers contributed.

The government holds large stocks of grain. It expects large amounts of this year's cotton crop to move under the protection of government loans.

Butler A Problem

Butler has been a well publicized government problem. Under prize supports it has bought up large tonnages of surplus butter.

Price breaks in the commodity markets used to be blamed on the Korean War. Peace rumors were said to frighten traders.

But with a Korean truce now an actuality, this week's sharp drop in wheat prices is being laid to fear that the farmers won't elect to come under government production regulations. If they vote against this, the price at which next year's crop will be supported by the government is automatically lowered.

Traders figure that the only way wheat prices could go in that case would be down.

The stocks of wheat held by the big producers—the United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia—is placed in excess of one billion bushels now. This is more than double the stocks held a year ago.

Exports Decline

Exports of American farm products have been declining while bumper crops have been piling up. Part of the reason for the export drop can be found in the large stocks available from other nations. Countries that are trying to save U. S. dollars look to other sources for grain and cotton when they can.

Home consumption of farm products, however, has been rising.

Wheat Climbs After Sharp Drop Monday

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat rebounded several cents on the Board of Trade today following the sharp losses of the two previous sessions.

The rebound came after all contracts had slipped to new low ground for the season during the first hour. A pickup in export trade and better flour business plus technical considerations, were given credit for what's advance.

Other sections of the market had minor price changes. All corn contracts sank to new seasonal lows late in the session. This reflected belief a government crop report, scheduled for issuance after the market's close, would show excellent corn crop prospects.

Ashton Man Leaves $104,000 Estate

A petition for letters testamentary was filed today in the office of Sterling Schrock, county clerk by Paul W. Charters, Ashton, in the $104,000 estate of the late Peter A. Kelly, Ashton, who died July 14, 1953 at Ashton.

A hearing on the estate amounting to $74,000 in real estate and $30,000 in personal property has been set for Sept. 22.

Big Truck Firm Ordered To Pay Illinois Licenses

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Hayes Freight Lines, Inc., one of the state's largest trucking firms, has been ordered in court to pay up to the state in full for its 1952 Illinois truck licenses.

Judge Devitt Crow in Sangamon County Circuit Court Monday fixed the firm's debt at $59,258.

Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, who filed suit against Hayes in May, said Crow's order represented a "cheering victory" in the state's campaign to force payment of trucker delinquencies.

Many haulers paid only a portion of their state fees last year. At that time, fees increases voted by the 1951 Legislature were being challenged in the courts. The higher fees finally were upheld.

Castle estimated delinquencies at 12 million dollars. He has sued to collect $1,555,151 of this amount and other suits are being prepared.

The Hayes suit was the first to be brought.

Crow entered one judgment against Hayes for $22,925, representing the uncontested portion of the state's claim. He refused a request for further hearings on the remainder, and entered a second judgment in the amount of $36,330, including $131 in penalties for delinquency. At the same time, Crow gave Hayes until Sept. 5 to file a motion to vacate the second judgment, which will bear interest at five per cent.

As a result of the court's action, Castle said he expected many small operators to pay up without waiting to be sued.

President Calls on Federal Agencies to Reduce Spending

Ike Hopes to Avoid Call Of Congress

Reminds Leaders of Republican Pledge On Federal Economy

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower, trying to avoid calling a special session of congress, today called for a reduction of federal spending "with renewed vigor."

In a letter to the heads of the federal departments and agencies, the President said:

Ever since the date of inauguration, every member of this administration has been dedicated to the purposes of efficiency and economy in government.

Now Is Time

"Now that Congress is adjourned, it is time to attack the problem with renewed vigor."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the letter public at the President's vacation headquarters here as Eisenhower was getting a briefing on the world military situation from Adm. Arthur Radford, the incoming chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Hagerty told newsmen that Eisenhower, in calling for a new drive to reduce federal spending, was trying to avoid calling a special session of Congress.

The press secretary noted that the Senate had refused to go along with the President's request for an increase in the $275 billion ceiling on the national debt. The administration wanted it increased to $280 billion dollars.

Promise Try

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has said failure of Congress to authorize the increase probably would make it necessary to call Congress back before January, but he and other administration fiscal officials have promised to try to cut spending to avert such a session.

In his letter, Eisenhower told the heads of departments and agencies "it is absolutely essential to take every possible step progressively to reduce the expenditures of your department" during the fiscal year which started July 1.

In reply to a question, Hagerty said the President has not indicated any specific amount by which he would like to see spending reduced.

AFL Votes to Suspend Dock Workers Union

CHICAGO (AP)—The AFL executive council today voted to recommend that the AFL convention next month suspend the International Longshoremen's Association.

The executive council said in a letter to the ILA that the union had failed to carry out the council's demands to rid the ILA of racketeers and hoodlums.

Crime investigators have charged the union with harboring criminal elements.

'Brain-Washing' Stories Studied in Washington

Indoctrinated GIs Will Be Given Chance to Recover

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reports from Freedom Village that some freed American prisoners of war may be coming back home as indoctrinated Communists furrowed some official brows in Washington today.

However, those chiefly concerned with the nation's internal security appeared to be taking a "wait and see" attitude.

Top officials in the Justice Department reported they have had no direct official report on any American-turned-Red on the repatriation list. But they said press reports of such cases were being followed closely.

"It is difficult to say at this point what the situation might be," one such source said, "if any evidence of treason, such as acts of atrocity against other Americans, should turn up, we would certainly look at it very carefully."

"On the other hand, we should all recognize that men long confined, especially under conditions such as those in Korea, are frequently under severe emotional strain at release."

An Army spokesman said there was no intention to conduct anything like a witch hunt among released American prisoners.

Plan Interviews

The spokesman said Army intelligence officers will interview all the exchanged captives as a matter of course, but without any attempt to segregate those who appear to have accepted the heavy doses of Red propaganda.

The long voyage home is counted upon by the Army to strengthen the men physically as well as to ventilate their minds of any Communist notions.

Reds Jail Farmers in E. Germany

'Sabotage' Harvest Is Charged; Food Giveaway Continues

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's Communist government was reported jailing farmers today for "sabotaging" the Soviet zone harvest.

Thousands of the hungry victims of the Red's agricultural breakdown, meanwhile, continued to pour into West Berlin for free American food parcels.

The resourceful food seekers eluded Red travel controls by mingling with the thousands of East Berlin workers who commute daily across the Soviet frontier.

West Berlin officials expected today's food handout to approximate Monday's 108,047.

In the two-week-old campaign, the West up to Monday night had given 2,111,611 parcels to East zone citizens. The present distribution system will end next Saturday but a new plan is to begin Aug. 27.

The U. S. State Department's newspaper Neue Zeitung reported the arrests of East zone farmers.

The paper said the Red regime, enraged by delays in bringing the storm-piagned grain crop to market, began sending police out into the fields last weekend.

Americans Turned Red Are Scorned

Vow Vengeance on One-Time Buddies In Red Prison Camps

PANMUNJOM (AP)—A bitter band of die-hard Americans came back from their Red prison camps today—vowing vengeance on weaker comrades who turned to communism under pressure.

They spat out "progressive" as a dirty word, and wore with honor the badge of "reactionary" fastened on them by Red Chinese who clubbed and tortured them but did not break their spirits.

One tough American had to be held back by force when he spotted a "progressive" at the Freedom Village reception center.

"I'll get that s. o. b. when I get home," he said.

100 Return

One hundred Americans came back from the North, along with 21 British, 25 Turks and 250 South Koreans in the seventh day of the Korean war prisoner exchange.

Meanwhile, 328 Americans repatriated earlier sailed from Inchon aboard the troopship Gen. Nelson M. Walker for the voyage of 14 to 15 days to San Francisco's Golden Gate.

All were classed as healthy.

It is expected to arrive at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco about 6 a. m. Wednesday.

The first week of exchange has brought 618 Americans of the 3,313 the Reds say they hold. A total of 2,372 Allied captives have been returned. The Reds listed 12,763.

The U. N. Command has returned 19,096 of its 71,000 Red prisoners.

Another 100 Americans, 250 ROKs, 25 British and 25 Turks are scheduled to return Wednesday.

Win Hard Way

The latest group of Americans released won the "reactionary" honors the hard way. They spoke with passion of those who have suffered.

"If any progressives get on the boat with me," said one, "they'll be shark bait. They are hated worse than the Chinks."

"If I met one in a bar, I'd hit him in the mouth," said another. "One of us wouldn't walk out—and it wouldn't be me."

American officers and newsmen were startled at the violence of the reactions and immediate steps were taken to keep some of the groups separate to prevent possible bloody clashes.

After months and years behind the Red curtain, many still had courage to defy the Communists.

For mocking at Red propaganda lectures, disputing Communist lies and standing up for their legal rights, these men said they received special attention of their guards.

Centralia Fires 3 to Save Money

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP)—In an unprecedented economy move, the City Monday night fired three city superintendents and combined their jobs under a new department of public works.

Mayor Robert M. Washburn said the action was taken to avoid an $12,000 to $20,000 city deficit for the year.

Harold D. Stedelin, head of a Centralia engineering firm and president of the city school system, was named superintendent of the new public works department. His starting salary will be $150 a month.

Sen. McCarthy Plans Public Hearings on New Red Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today the Senate investigations subcommittee will start public hearings next Monday to determine whether any Communists have access to secret documents published at the government printing plant.

He made the announcement after a closed door subcommittee session at which four unidentified witnesses were questioned.

McCarthy told newsmen the witnesses heard today were called at the request of the attorney "of the individual who has been charged with Communist activities."

McCarthy has declined to identify the individual, but other sources have reported that he is an employee of the Government Printing Office.

"The evidence so far," McCarthy said, "involves only one employee presently in the government."

He added, however, that "evidence that will be developed during the week" will cover more

August 25-26 Will Be Big Days for Lee County 4-H

By ARTHUR W. SEEDS

Lee County Assistant Farm Adviser

Two big days are in store for Lee county agriculture 4-H members Aug. 25 and 26 when they assemble their 1953 project work in Dixon for public display.

The annual 4-H county fair is a focal point for all 4-H members and one of the most important events of the year.

Both days of the fair are full of events for the 4-Hers attending and final plans are now being formed by the committees in charge.

The two-day program for agriculture members is as follows:
August 25 — 9 a.m. Sheep show—Ralph Salzman, Ashton, superintendent; Harold Council, Princeton, judge. 2:30 a.m. Crops and garden show—Wes Hockman, Na-chusa, superintendent. 10:30 a.m. Beef show—Howard Bothe, Dixon, superintendent. Harold Council, judge. 1:30 p.m. Dairy show—Henry Dressel, Dixon, superintendent. George Pajisho, Oregon, judge. 3 p.m. Poultry show—Wes Hockman, superintendent. 2:30 p.m. Electric show—Wes Hockman, superintendent; Dawson Womeldorff, Chicago, judge. 7:30 p.m. 4-H Float parade. 9 p.m. Evening program.

August 26 — 8:30 a.m. Swine show—Bruce Stouffer, Dixon superintendent; Jo Van Meter, Dixon judge. 9 a.m. Rabbit show—Wes tendent; Harold Council, Princeton, judge. 2:30 a.m. Crops and garden show—Wes Hockman, Na-chusa, superintendent. 10:30 a.m. Beef show—Howard Bothe, Dixon, superintendent. Harold Council, judge. 1:30 p.m. Dairy show—Henry Dressel, Dixon, superintendent. George Pajisho, Oregon, judge. 3 p.m. Poultry show—Wes Hockman, superintendent. 2:30 p.m. Electric show—Wes Hockman, superintendent; Dawson Womeldorff, Chicago, judge. 7:30 p.m. 4-H Float parade. 9 p.m. Evening program.

After the parade all floats will assemble on the high school football field, and awards will be presented. All 1953 Share-the-Fun county winners will present their acts during the program.

Share-the-Fun
The Share-the-Fun county winners are as follows:
Shirley Engelbrecht, Franklin Grove, M. C.
East Grove Cubs 4-H band — Richard Lohse, Harmon; Richard Angier, Sublette; Wayne Keicher, Harmon; Don Rogers, Ohio; Charles Rogers, Ohio.

Palmyra Hillbillies and Palmyra Sewing Maids Square Dance Team — Doris Hippen, Rita Bosenfelder, Darlene & Elaine Burgess, Ed Fassler, David and Alti Hippen, John Laur, all of Dixon.
Margaret Lair, Dixon, vocal solo.
Grove Girls, all club members, tune and novelty act.
Cora Ann Clark, Sublette, tap dance.

A highlight of the evening program will be a talk to 4-Hers by Dawson Womeldorff, Chicago, who is in charge of agricultural sales, Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

Cull Lazy Pullets And Boost Profits

There is a simplified way to cull out those "rent-free" boarders in your poultry flock.

"Even with good current egg prices you'll be dollars ahead," says Capper's Farmer. "It will cut costs by the first of the year, when eggs from a large second crop of pullets will start pulling prices down."

Many flock owners make heavy pay their way with this uninvolved culling system:

1. Cull out the yellow. When housed, the best pullets of the yellow-skinned breeds have bright yellow beaks and shanks, and yellow-pigmented vent and eye ring. Those that lose yellow pigment first usually are the most intensive layers. Pullets retaining yellow spend too much time everywhere but on the nest.

2. Get rid of the late maturers. At pullet housing time, weed out those undersized, slow-to-develop birds. Market the last 10 per cent to start laying.

3. Remove the poorly. This should begin with the chicks, continue with pullets and never end with the layers. Get rid of crippled and deformed chicks, those with slow and incomplete feathering, and those that don't learn to eat or show shrunken shanks and bodies.

When pullets are ready for laying quarters, cull out those with sharp breasts, ruffled feathers and pale, thin shanks, caused by loss of weight, lameness, blindness or tumors. Watch and strike out any that look sickly.

How much time does culling take? "At most I spend three hours a month culling," says a Kansas flock owner. "I have 1500 yearling hens left out of the 2,400 sexed chicks I started with the first of this year. That's heavy culling."

His hens must maintain 65 to 70 per cent production to keep out of the noodle pot. He claims those culling hours make good wages.

Expert Will Give Insect Control Demonstration Near Amboy

AMBOY — H. B. Petty, entomologist from the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, will be in Lee County Friday, Aug. 14, to conduct a demonstration on spittlebug and clover leaf weevil control.

The demonstration will start promptly at 9 a.m. CDT. Some buildings will be sprayed for flies with the new chemical. An automatic cattle sprayer that the cattle walk through and spray themselves will be on display.

The demonstration will be over about 11 o'clock.

Smith and Cole farm. Next year's spittlebug and clover leaf weevil can be very effectively controlled by spraying new seedling with DDT this time of year.

On The Rural Scene

With JIM SOMERS
Lee County Farm Adviser

It isn't too late to build more crib space for an anticipated corn crop.

The American Farm Bureau Federation last week gave strong support to a bill to provide the deduction from gross income for income tax purposes of expenses incurred by farmers for soil and water conservation.

Legislation of this type has been discussed by farm bureau members for several years. As a result the A.F.B.F. field crops advisory committee recommended and the A.F.B.F. board of directors adopted as policy that "A.F.B.F. urged the Treasury Department to adopt a policy that will permit farmers to make income tax deductions on farm improvements which classify as soil conservation practices."

Norman Oebker, U. of I. garden specialist, says that commercial fertilizers are very good in improving yield and quality of vegetables and crops but many statements being made about some liquid fertilizers just aren't true.

One claim is that the fertilizers contain radio active materials. Even if it were true Oebker says, these materials would do little or nothing to improve the garden.

Another claim is that liquid fertilizers are better than dry fertilizers. In a few cases Oebker says plant food in liquids may become available sooner but under most circumstances it makes little difference.

A third false claim is that liquid fertilizers are cheaper than others. On the contrary liquid fertilizers are more expensive than most for gardens.

The last claim he refutes is that liquid fertilizers get instantaneous results. All fertilizers are good but none work instantaneously.

Plan to attend the demonstration at 9:00 a.m. on the Smith and Cole farm this Friday, Aug. 14. We are going to discuss spraying of flies with a new chemical, fall spraying of clover leaf weevil, and spittlebug. We will also see an automatic sprayer for livestock in operation.

More and more farmers are wondering how to control weeds not on their own property.

The thistle weed commissioner is paid by the Board of Township Auditors and holds office for two years. If your township Board refuses to appoint a commissioner, the county Board, upon petition of 25 landowners, appoints one for the township. The compensation is up to $6 per day.

There is another law which permits farmers in a county to eliminate township weed commissioners and establish a weed control department for the entire county. You will find these laws in Chapter 18 of the Illinois Revised Statutes.

In the absence of weed commissioners, each farmer may prosecute another for disseminating noxious weed seeds, under our criminal code. Also, the State Department of Agriculture has some obligation to prevent the spread of certain noxious weeds. You may write to the State Department for

Launch Drive To Wine Out Brucellosis

A nation-wide campaign to eliminate brucellosis from beef cattle herds as well as dairy farms is being launched by animal disease control authorities.

"The recent demand of many cities for dairy products from brucellosis-free herds has stimulated the campaign against the disease on dairy farms," the American Foundation for Animal Health reported this week.

"However, brucellosis is just as serious in beef herds as on dairy farms. Single-herd control programs should at least be expanded to a county or state-wide basis," a spokesman said.

The foundation outlined three "musts" for any successful control program:

1—Blood tests to identify infected animals. Ring tests conducted on milk to help locate infected dairy herds for subsequent blood testing.

2—Quarantine of all infected or carrier animals to restrict the spread of the disease.

3—Calving vaccination.

"Brucellosis can be controlled if everyone concerned will join in a program of this kind," the foundation said.

Illinois Is Big Producer of New Dessert Product

URBANA — Illinois was one of the leading producers of the new mellonine-type frozen desserts in 1952. Mellonine is the name of the ice-cream-like product made with fats other than butterfat. It does contain some milk solids.

In only four states last year was the manufacture and sale of mellonine legal throughout the year: Texas, Illinois, Missouri and Oklahoma. Total production last year was just over 11 million gallons. Texas produced more than half that. Illinois produced more than two million gallons.

U. S. Department of Agriculture economists expect sales to be much higher in 1953. In those four states production at the end of 1952 was double what it was in the beginning, and more states have now legalized the mellonine-type product.

In Illinois the growth was even more rapid than for the others. In January 1952 only four thousand gallons were made. In December 235,000 gallons were turned out.

The product was first manufactured in Texas two or three years ago.

Mellonine is far from being a standard product, the economists say, and much remains to be done in the industry in setting standards.

Food Fashions Change in Just 10 Years

By FRANK PRIEBE

Fashions in food change — just like fashions in clothes.

We're certainly not eating today the way we did 50 years ago. We're not eating the way we did ten years ago!

It's hard to see from day to day what's happening. But go back before the war, say from 1935 to 1939. Compare what people were eating then with what they're eating now. Maybe you think, in that short a time, there couldn't have been much change. But I saw some interesting figures on that the other day. They show that today — compared to before the war — the average person is eating 45 per cent less cornmeal, 17 per cent less flour, 20 per cent fewer white potatoes, 60 per cent fewer sweet potatoes.

But he's eating 44 per cent more cheese, 15 per cent more meat, 31 per cent more eggs, 68 per cent more chicken.

It's that increase in the consumption of eggs and chicken that interests us particularly, of course. Who knows the limit?

In a business magazine the other night I was reading an article about farming. The farmer today, it pointed out, is "figuring costs like any manufacturer."

As the best example of how "intensive farming" has paid off, they cited the poultry industry: "The days when Mom raised a few chickens for the egg money are gone. Poultry raising is now as technical an industry as you can find."

Every year there are people who say, "We've reached the limit. People aren't going to eat any more chicken."

But every year they do!

Somehow I like the spirit of the man who said, "If our industry spent as much money and effort merchandising chicken as it does on development and production, the market would be virtually unlimited. Suppose we set out to merchandise chicken the way the citrus growers merchandise oranges, for example. We probably could expand our market to eight times what it is now."

I don't know whether we could or not. But I'm sure it's good for our industry to have men who feel... and talk... and act that way. And I see now the a Broiler Institute has been organized — for one purpose: To promote the sale of broilers all over the United States.

That's a beginning!

Expand More

A feed man — pointing out the basic economic reasons why our industry can still expand — says, "No other meat production program can grow one pound of meat on two and one-half pounds of feed; grow one pound of meat with 80 seconds' work; grow one pound of meat with an overhead investment of one-half cent to a penny a pound."

The average grower isn't doing quite that well yet. But a few growers are! And what a few are able to do today, more will be able to do tomorrow.

It will be interesting to see how much chicken people will be eating ten years from now!

Cut Cost of Hog Rations; Feed Oats, Wheat

URBANA—If oats and wheat get cheap enough after harvest time, it will pay you to use them for part of the corn in hog rations.

H. G. Russell, extension livestock specialist at the Illinois college of agriculture, says that wheat is as good as corn, pound for pound. You can substitute wheat entirely for corn in hog rations if it is cheaper.

Oats, on the other hand, are as valuable as corn, pound for pound, only if they do not make up more than one-fourth of the total ration. You should not use more than one part of oats to three parts of corn.

If you feed more oats than this ratio, your hogs will not gain so fast and the cost of the gains will go up. Oats should be finely ground so that the hogs will like them better and eat more of them.

Wheat should be coarsely ground or fed whole. Finely ground wheat is too floury and unpalatable.

MILK RECORD

For the first time fluid milk delivered to the Chicago market topped 400 million pounds for one month when the April production reached 402 million pounds.

Farmers can earn about 13 cents a bushel by providing storage space in 33 Northern Illinois counties for nearly 17 million bushels of 1952 corn stored on farms in that area.

Woodland Grazing Causes Losses to Farms and Cattle

CHICAGO—Farmers incur a two-fold loss when they turn cattle loose to graze woodlands, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

"The first loss is in the meat and milk that might have been produced if the cattle had been grazing on good pasture," says a statement issued by the committee.

"The second loss is in the quantity and quality of timber that might have been produced had there been no grazing damage."

The committee points out that good pasture can produce anywhere from 250 to 600 pounds of beef per acre.

"But one steer on six acres of open woodland pasture at Purdue University actually lost 15 pounds between May and mid-August," says the statement.

"Farmers will be money ahead if they fertilize permanent pastures or renovate to get the pasture they need for high meat and milk production."

"After the first or second cutting of hay, a top-dressing of a balanced fertilizer will strengthen legume-grass stands and give the pasture plants the nutrients they need for a quick comeback."

"Tired, run-down pastures can be revived to profitable, high yielding production by a renovation program that includes killing off the old sod, seeding well-adapted legume-grass stand and fertilizing with plenty of nitrogen, phosphate and potash."

Wheat Quota Vote Could Affect Corn

URBANA—Economists don't even like to guess what wheat prices would be next summer without marketing quotas and price supports at 90 percent of parity.

G. L. Jordan, farm price economist at the University of Illinois, explains that all recent wheat crops have been supported by an export subsidy and government loan programs.

Wheat farmers have been shielded from the effects of a world price much lower than the United States price.

We have four important outlets for wheat—food, livestock feed, foreign markets, and storage. If farmers as a group reject marketing quotas August 14, the price will be set by the highest paying of these four outlets that will clear the market.

That might well be the foreign market, Jordan says, but at world prices. Domestic consumers will pay a higher price for some wheat but they can use only about half our supply.

Price may drop as low as 50 percent of parity, Jordan says, but only if the value of wheat as feed, the value in foreign market, and the willingness to carry over supplies would not support it as a higher price.

Jordan doubts that wheat would go below corn prices, but this much wheat added to the feed supply might well lower the price of corn.

Without another war scare, crop failure, or price supports, wheat supplies as large as this year's might, in the short run, force average wheat prices down to $1.50 a bushel, with harvest time prices even lower.

However, in the long run with free competitive prices, Jordan says, acreage would be shifted to other crops and wheat supplies would be reduced.

Hens suffer greatly in hot weather because they do not perspire to reduce their body temperature, says a University of Illinois poultry specialist.

Economy Should Not Hurt Defenses, Lawmakers Think

Even in these days, when a man in Washington can say "thanks a billion" as easily as anything, $13 billion is no sum to treat casually. And that's the amount President Eisenhower and congress together lopped off from former President Truman's January requests for new federal appropriations.

Of this reduction, the Eisenhower administration accounted for $9 billion, and congress the rest. Their combined efforts produced a 19 per cent slash in the total of new money voted for the fiscal year which started this July 1.

Moreover, these cuts were accomplished by an administration which had to study and revise the entire national budget—insofar as it could—in the interval between Jan. 20, when Mr. Eisenhower took office, and Aug. 3, the adjournment date of this congressional session.

For all this considerable effort, the government looks ahead to a deficit this year of several billion dollars. Consequently, the president felt he could not wisely undertake tax reductions now. His hope is, of course, that further budget savings will allow tax trimming next year.

These results have not satisfied a good many of Mr. Eisenhower's fellow Republicans, who believe that a balanced budget and lower taxes should have been possible in 1953. Some of these are worried about being accused of falling down on campaign promises. Others think the administration is following a "high-spending, high-taxes" course which they identify as Democratic.

But, in contrast to this dissatisfaction, most of the 30 Republican governors recently endorsed the president's performance thus far in the financial field. They particularly supported Mr. Eisenhower's insistence on deferring tax cuts until a balanced budget could be achieved.

The governors' attitude attracted interest because they are traditionally regarded as being closer to the grass roots than lawmakers in Washington, who tend to get out of touch with the home folks during a long session. The governors do not seem to feel Mr. Eisenhower's handling of money problems will handicap the GOP at the polls in 1954.

They take the view there is something more vital than fulfilling a campaign promise, and that is the national interest. They fear the effect of too rapid budget cuts on the domestic economy.

Other men would support this position with the further argument that our security must come first. They believe the question must always be: "What will this cut do to the world-wide fabric of our defenses?"

Economy is a notable goal. But evidently the GOP governors are in the vanguard of those Americans who feel it must not be practiced at the expense of safety and well-being.

"Look Out for the Book; She Hook ze Horn." Pegler Reviews Ups and Downs of Georges Carpenter After KO (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON—Congressman Clare E. Hoffman is, in my informed opinion, and, on his record, a superior public servant, diligent in pursuing criminals and authorized tyrants operating under the charters and special privileges which the New Deal conferred on unions and on its parasitic political adherents. He is a Republican, representing the fourth Michigan district. He is almost 78 years old, lean, little, aggressive and driven by an unflagging fury against the degeneration of this republic, and the theft and waste of the taxes which people have to pay. He has traveled for months in the most oppressive weather to some of the least inviting places in the country from the standpoint of an old man who might reasonably take thought of his comfort and health, living in cheerless hotel rooms and bounding rackety cars and regional strappings of the reigning corruption established by the late Roosevelt and his machine.

While many of his colleagues, including other Republicans, have preferred luxurious journeys by air at government expense to interesting areas overseas from which they returned home heavy with treasure with only their own conscientious scruples to guide them at the customs, Mr. Hoffman has fought it out in giddy hearing rooms in Kansas City, Omaha, Chicago, St. Paul and Detroit, often sitting as a one-man subcommittee. Now he has been "cut down to size" as Charlie Halleck put it. Halleck is a tired, discouraged, Indiana Republican of the Eisenhower machine. Mr. Hoffman's indifference to state boundaries and the local interests of other congressmen as the others led him into their home districts has been viewed with alarm. Mr. Hoffman, like Joe McCarthy, was too active and too successful for the comfort and political security of others in Congress. So now he has been handcuffed, hobbled and gagged by his colleagues, including other Republicans who are too lazy to work just one summer anywhere near as hard as he has worked for years and who realize that if he should go belling into their home districts he might catch them in flagrant relations with their quarry.

George Bender, a Taft Republican from Ohio, said Hoffman was crochety and temperish and always wanted his own way. That is a fair description. Even with reporters, unlike many other statesmen on the hill, he makes no effort to be winsome. Publicity for his own sake or flattery for his scribbler is beneath his notice. It seems as though, being nearly 78, although he is spry both mentally and physically, he has realized that he has too little time left to do all the good for his country that he has set himself to do.

Mr. Bender has had some experience with Mr. Hoffman's dogged inquisitiveness. Hoffman caught a fellow on the payroll of a congressional committee who was even then in the employ of a company which the committee was investigating. The case led right into Bender's district and, only in the nick of time, Bender saw to it that the man refrained from cashing the checks for his government pay. Such a crochety, temperish and absolutely unswerving old man as Hoffman could make things damned embarrassing, if allowed to go poking into other people's districts in the off-season. Not that there was anything crooked here, of course. Mr. Hoffman made no such charge but he did admonish Bender on the appearance of evil.

In Kansas City, Hoffman uncovered a frightful reign of terror over not only industry, including "projects" of the government involving mountainous sums of the taxpayers' money, but brutal intimidation of other unions by the local teamsters and, to a lesser extent, by the Common Laborers' union.

The Teamsters, and especially Dave Beck, of Seattle, the regent appointed by Dan Tobin, the retiring grand exalted fatherhood of this monstrous force, have been glamorized for more than a year in some of the most wanton corrupt journalism in the history of our press. With untold millions to spend for any purpose that the ruling high-binders deem suitable for the purposes of the union, the Teamsters' has been presented as HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Exclusively Yours: Red Skelton and Milton Berle, booked into the Sahara and Sands Hotels for the same two weeks, will be battling it out for the comedy king title of Las Vegas.

Whether it was premeditated or accidental may never be known, but it looks now like Red and Uncle Miltie will clash again on TV in the fall. If Red hands in the CBS fold, as expected, he'll take over the Tuesday night 8:30 period opposite Berle.

Sterling Hayden and his wife, Betty, are now completely reconciled but another movie couple, Shelley Winters and Vittorio Gassman, are skating on thin matrimonial ice. They've decided the odds are against their marriage surviving and a divorce announcement is due.

Two movie agents met and the first wave of the commissions pouring in now that 3-D had arrived. "You mean you handle such good actors?" asked the second, ten-per-center.

"With 3-D, who handles actors?" shrugged the other agent. "I'm handling roller coasters and knife throwers."

Maureen O'Hara is sitting on a sad story that explains her divorce from Will Price and her demands of the breakup until the last minute. Diana, Hollywood's dress designer, is putting a fashion show into a night club—the Calvada Lodge at Lake Tahoe. She'll also emcee.

FAMILY POSSESSION Debra Paget's now explaining that diamond ring with: "It's not an engagement ring and has been a family possession for a long time."

John Payne and Sandy Curtis have set the marriage date—some time in September.

He just wants to get on with his duty as a member of Congress with a record of 16 years of honorable, patriotic work which other men lacked the bravery or ability to tackle. This is a sketchy, circumstantial introduction to Mr. Hoffman, his work, the rottenness which he is exposing and the strange opposition which is trying to stop him.

TO DO BATTLE

Aldo Ray and Columbia will battle it out any day now over his salary smaller than that commanded by bit players in spite of his big-time stardom and proven boxoffice draw.

Kirk Douglas will star in "The Silver Nitrate," about a 16th century Dutch family, after his stint in "Ulysses." Max Setton will produce and David Miller will direct—in London.

The Alan Ladd family trekked down the Queen Elizabeth's gangplank with 111 pieces of luggage. Julie Wilson claims 3-D movies are just 2-D movies with an audience. It's a six-month safari to South Africa for Dana Andrews, Jeanne Crain and Director George Marshall, who will film "Duel in the Jungle" there for Moulin Productions.

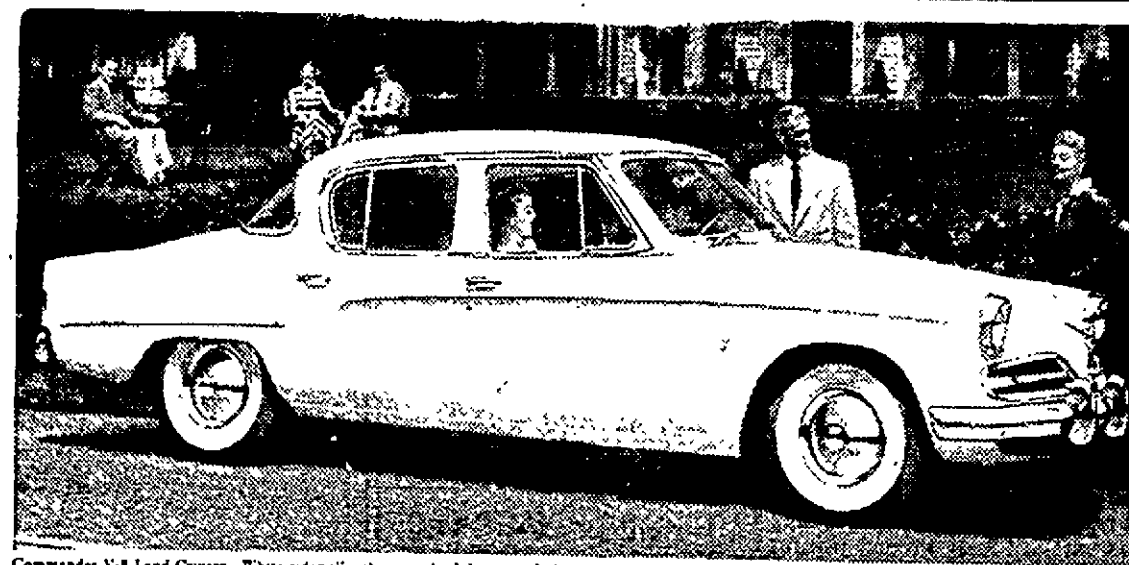

Zsa Zsa Gabor's next French movie will be "Moi et Toi" ("Me and You"). Sounds like a story of two bath towels. Ann Sheridan, who's not afraid of being directed by another movie queen, has been talking to Ida Lupino about co-starring with Howard Duff in "The Story of a Cop."

Phyllis Kirk denies that she and Jennings Lang, of the Walter Wanger-John Bennett bang-bang episode, are on their way to the altar. Joan Fontaine, furious at rumors that she raised a ruckus during filming of "Flight From Tangier," is showing a gift from Producer Nat Holt "for being such a good trouper." The Doctor Says:

There Are No Good Reasons Why a Person Should Smoke

By EDWIN P. JORDON, M. D.

There is vigorous debate on whether smoking is harmful and in what way, but no one claims that it strengthens the muscles, improves the "wind" or does anything else to improve the health!

Nicotine has generally been considered the principal ingredient of tobacco smoke which may exert an unfavorable effect. Tars or other elements in tobacco may also be undesirable. As a pure drug, nicotine is a powerful poison.

When burned as it is in smoking, the harmful effect of the nicotine is certainly lessened. Furthermore, of the nicotine which enters the smoker's mouth, only a small amount is absorbed through the linings of the mouth, throat and lungs into the blood.

The amount of nicotine in the smoke is increased by rapid smoking. The nicotine which is absorbed is eliminated quickly through the kidneys.

Tobacco smoke irritates the delicate mucous linings of the breathing passages. Coated tongue in heavy smokers is the rule. The throat and larynx, or voice box, are irritated by heavy smoking and smokers frequently have a slight cough and hoarseness.

There is some evidence that cigarette smokers show an increased likelihood of developing lung cancer and I know of several doctors who have given up smoking for this reason.

Smoking interferes with the appetite. The person who stops heavy smoking suddenly tends to gain weight merely because he eats more. People with ulcers of the stomach are often advised not to smoke. Smoking increases the acid secretions of the stomach and tends to slow the healing of an ulcer, some people believe. Many smokers complain of cold hands and feet. This is probably because the nicotine absorbed causes some of the small blood vessels to contract and, therefore, to carry less warming blood to these regions. In some people the tightening of the blood vessels is so great after smoking that a temporary increase in blood pressure is produced.

Those who have definite blood vessel disease such as Buerger's disease, Raynaud's disease, angina pectoris, and those who have had a coronary occlusion should refrain from smoking. Other people whose blood vessels respond unfavorably to smoking should consider giving up the habit.

INTERFERES WITH ATHLETE. There is little doubt that excessive smoking interferes with athletic performance. Shortness of breath on exertion after smoking is usual. Athletes in training are not supposed to smoke during the period of their competition.

Does smoking shorten life? This is highly debatable. One study of this subject came to the conclusion that in men, at least, smokers after the age of 40 have a lower average expectation of life than do non-smokers.

Different people are affected differently by tobacco smoking. Those who show definitely unfavorable effect or have diseases in which tobacco smoking is pretty well known to be harmful should give up the habit. Others may feel that the pleasure of smoking is worth any possible harm.

Daughter-in-Law Should Remember These Pointers

Here are a few pointers a daughter-in-law should remember when she becomes a mother-in-law:

Her son has some faults. She knows it now because she lives with him and tries to make him happy. She hopes she won't suddenly decide he is perfect when the job is taken over by a wife.

Always to build and never to tear down her daughter-in-law. If she remembers that, she knows she will be welcome in her daughter-in-law's home.

Never to ask prying questions. The quickest way in the world to make a daughter-in-law clam up is for a mother-in-law to take the attitude that she has the right to know all about her son and his wife's affairs.

To create the impression that she thinks her son is lucky to have the wife he has. Too many mothers-in-law act as if the luck were all the other way around.

To ask her daughter-in-law's advice at least as often as she offers advice. Never to give her daughter-in-law the impression that she feels she "lost" her son when he married.

SHOW IN-LAWS AFFECTION

Show her daughter-in-law the kind of affectionate concern she shows her son. Some mothers-in-law are forever worrying over how hard a son works but are completely blind to the fact that the son's wife may be working just as hard.

Never to try to show up a daughter-in-law's faults to her son. The more a mother helps her son to appreciate his wife, the more she is going to be appreciated by her daughter-in-law.

To make her daughter-in-law feel that she considers whatever success comes their way as being won by both of them, not just by the son.

She thinks if she can remember all of these things when she becomes a mother-in-law she won't have any daughter-in-law trouble.

What's Right?

When you're asked to view a finished product, the reaction expected of you is approval—not criticism. Friends whose house is built don't want to be told how the floor plan could have been improved.

Never mind pointing out what might have been—when a thing is already done and finished.

The Fredonia Gas Light and Water Works company was the first natural gas corporation in the United States. It was organized in 1858.

Thelma Fair August Bride Party Honoree

Mrs. Henry Wendel, Ashton and Mrs. Beryl Beeghly and Miss Maxine Beeghly, Franklin Grove, entertained recently with a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Thelma Fair. Miss Fair and William E. Mitchell will be wed Aug. 15. Garden flowers decorated the Beeghly home for the party. Fifty was played with Mrs. Donald Yocum, Mrs. Arthur Miller, Mrs. Donald Kaeker and Mrs. Robert Currens receiving traveling prizes. The guest of honor's many gifts were placed on the buffet which had been decorated in her chosen colors. Also a highlight of the decorations was a bride doll dressed in white satin and lace. At the close of the evening a dessert luncheon was served and this also carried out the bride elect's chosen colors.

Attend Party
Gift cards read from: Mesdames Ernest Fair, Gordon Bucher, Anna Breunier, Ed Lott, O. D. Buck, Earl Buck, Rube Callison, Donald Yocum, Willard Simpson, Morris Greenwald, Clifford Blocher, Leroy J. Miller, Dale Jasper, Robin Lahman, James Hornung, Glenn Spangler, Donald Kaeker, Arthur Miller, Glen Naylor, Glenn Wagner, Roy Wendel, Robert Currens and the Misses Carol Fair, Margaret Tord, Judy Grady, Frances and Wilma Miller, Carol Brucker, Jeanine Bennett and the hostesses.

How Long Are Leftovers Safe?

With beef plentiful, you've probably found it thrifty of money and time in the kitchen to buy larger-than-usual roasts and then plan economical dinners around the leftovers. Just remember to refrigerate the freshly cooked roast as soon as it reaches room temperature, and then use it within the next three or four days.

Frances Cook, foods specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture suggests approximate limits for safe storage of certain other cooked foods. She says that hard cooked eggs, with or without the shell and refrigerated in covered containers, can be safely eaten within 10 days after cooking, but the whites will start to become tough and rubbery within two or three days.

Salads made of cooked meat, poultry, fish and eggs should be used within three or four hours. Vegetable and fruit salads may keep a bit longer—possibly between four and six hours, though all salads are best when freshly mixed with the dressing added just before serving.

Plan to keep refrigerator roll doughs no longer than five days. Raw cookie doughs will be good up to three weeks. Use left-over batter for pancakes and waffles within three or four days. You can keep pie shells in good condition in the refrigerator for three to seven days. Heat them in the oven if they become soggy.

Rock River Grange News

Rock River Grange will have a social meeting at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday in Loveland Community House. The program by the men of the Grange will be in the form of a minstrel show. The public is invited to attend.

Today's Hints

One of the most useful small gifts you can give a bride is a roast meat thermometer. Such a thermometer is an accurate guide, and with it meat may be roasted to the exact degree of doneness desired. The face of the thermometer will show exactly what the temperature of the meat is inside.

Lt. Gordon W. Johnson, Green Valley Girl to Wed September 5

Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. Clauser, Green Valley, Ill., announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Frances Marietta, to Second Lt. Gordon W. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, 122 Lincoln av., Dixon.

Miss Clauser, a graduate of Green Valley high school, is a senior at the University of Illinois. Lt. Johnson who was graduated from Dixon high school and the University of Illinois in February, 1953, is stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga. He entered service in April as a commissioned officer.

The wedding date has been set for Saturday, Sept. 5, in Green Valley.

Soft Lines, Fabrics for Mature Woman

By ALICIA HART

A mature woman sometimes gives a masculine look to her appearance that is totally at variance with her true, feminine personality. She does this by wearing man-tailored suits and fedora hats.

She believes these clothes to be neat and in classic good taste, but one wonders if she thinks of becomingness. They may become the younger woman, particularly if she is slender with excellent body proportions, but not the mature woman.

The stiff tweeds and worsteds of these suits and their broad shoulders and practical, straight skirts provide no softness for the mature woman, and softness is what she needs.

If you're a mature woman whose habit it has been to wear man-tailored suits, why not, the next time you shop for clothes, try on a dressmaker suit or dress? Select one made from a soft fabric, with flattering details and cut. The more youthful, and at the same time perfectly simple, the suit or dress is, the more likely it is to flatter you.

To wear with your new soft suit or dress, select a hat that's the antithesis of the fedora—small, shapely, simple and flattering.

The mature woman is right to want to be neat. Neatness is an essential for her—but it should be combined with softness and femininity.

Former Mayor O'Dwyer's Wife Gets Mexican Decree

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Sloan Simpson O'Dwyer was reported today to have obtained a Mexican civil divorce from the former mayor of New York City, who became U. S. ambassador to Mexico.

The newspaper Excelsior in a copyrighted article said court records at Cuernavaca, resort town 35 miles south of the Mexican capital, showed the 36-year-old former model filed suit there Feb. 18 and was granted a divorce from 62-year-old William O'Dwyer June 3. Excelsior said she charged mental cruelty.

O'Dwyer, who quit his ditorial post after President Hoover's election and open office here, would neither nor deny the report.

"Our marital affairs a hands of the Catholic Ch said early today.

Mrs. O'Dwyer is now and could not be reached ately for comment.

According to the rep Cuernavaca, she said in vorce testimony: "From ginning we knew that riage was impossible. T ble character of my which in time led to alr tinal threats and insult cause of all our trouble."

The O'Dwyer's annou January that the Catholi had granted them permi a temporary separation. I Archbishop of Mexico, M Maria Martinez, said a ment was being sought.

Canadians Elect Liberals Again

Louis St. Laurent Victor By Conclusive Vote Tide

TORONTO (U)—Canadians still swear by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and will have none—or very little—of his detractors. They made that clear in the national elections with a big tide of votes rolling the Liberal party to an unprecedented fifth term.

The vote Monday returned the Liberals to power with a House of Commons majority just short of the record margin they ran up in the 1949 landslide.

There were 265 Commons seats at stake. The Liberals needed 133 to maintain a majority able to back a government. They won 171.

The Progressive Conservative (Tory) party won 50. The socialist (CCF) Commonwealth Cooperative Federation was in third place with 23 and the Social Crediters next with 15. The remaining 6 were scattered.

In 1949 the Liberals won 193 seats.

St. Laurent, 71, hailed the result as "a heartening expression of confidence."

The Liberals have been in power since 1935, first under W. L. Mackenzie King and since 1948 under St. Laurent.

The conservatives now have failed to win a Canadian election since 1930. They tried Monday under the same leader who lost in 1949—George Drew, former premier of Ontario.

Drew retained his own Commons seat, however, by winning in his district.

The Communists' 100 candidates lost everywhere.

Union Eyes Layoffs at Harvester

CHICAGO (U)—A union said Monday it is asking the International Harvester Co. to hold immediate company-union talks to see what could be done about the plight of those laid off by Harvester.

Milt Burns, director of the National Harvester Conference board of the Farm Equipment Division of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (Ind.), made the request to Harvester President John McCaffrey.

"Our union could not stand idly by and permit thousands of Harvester workers to lose their jobs with no perspective (sic) of return," Burns said in his letter.

"Typical examples are the recent layoffs of 1,600 in the Rock Island, Ill., Farmall Works, and the anticipated 1,000-man layoffs in the Milwaukee works. The Rock Island-East Moline area with its heavy concentration of farm equipment plants is rapidly becoming a blighted area."

There was no immediate comment from Harvester officials.

Oysters Lag in Love Life, Claim

ILWACO, Wash. (U)—The love life of the oyster is getting a boost here—in meat grinders.

Oysters in Willapa Bay aren't reproducing fast enough to suit local growers so they're grinding them up by the thousands of bushels.

The grinding mixes sperm and ova and, when the "hash" is strewn on the bay, oyster larvae form in large numbers from the fertilized ova. Full-fledged oysters grow from the larvae.

Under normal conditions, growers have to depend upon currents in the bay to bring sperm and ova together.

15,000 Cook Co. GOP to Honor Gov.

SPRINGFIELD — (Special) — Joseph J. Schiffman, GOP Fourth Ward Republican committeeman in Chicago and Governor's Day chairman for the Cook County Republican Central Committee, today predicted that 15,000 Republicans from Cook county will converge on Springfield in tribute to governor William G. Stratton on Thursday, August 20. This is the traditional Governor's Day at the Illinois State Fair.

Special trains have been chartered and will arrive at the Fairgrounds in Springfield in time to participate in the Republican program in the grandstand.

He also said that invitations are being mailed to other Northern County Republicans to join the Cook County delegation on this special train. He said that thousands of other Republican leaders would come to GOP festivities at the State Fair by special chartered buses, by plane and in public cars.

Chairman Hollingsworth said that in the light of the large delegation from Cook County, this promises to be one of the biggest days in attendance in the history of the fair.

Doctor, Birth Control Expert Takes Life

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Benjamin F. Sieve, 50, who recently developed a birth control pill, died by hanging himself, a medical examiner ruled Monday night.

Mrs. Sieve said she found her husband's body hanging from a rope in their home.

Police said the doctor left a note but they refused to divulge its contents.

A report last October that he had developed a birth control pill brought criticism from many Roman Catholics.

However, Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington said use of the pills would not be against moral law.

At the time of his report, Dr. Sieve warned that further studies were needed before the pills could be used generally.

ILLINOIS STATE FAIR GROUNDS

Joliet Inmates To Aid in Blood Experiments

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(AP)—Selected inmate volunteers at Stateville Penitentiary will take part soon in experiments to improve medical knowledge concerning blood transfusions.

Transfusions given to bolster a patient's strength generally help, but sometimes an adverse reaction sets in.

"Some of these reactions are caused by differences in the blood which we have not learned as yet to recognize easily," explained the physician who will supervise the research at Stateville. He is Dr. I. Davidshon, research director of the Mt. Sinai Medical Research Foundation of Chicago.

Davidshon pointed out that transfusions are increasingly used now to strengthen a patient before an operation or to hasten convalescence from a prolonged and debilitating illness.

His statement was issued at Springfield Monday after Joseph D. Bibb, state public safety director, approved the request of Walden Joseph E. Ragen to set up the project. It will get underway later this month.

To Get Shots
To start with, selected inmate volunteers will receive a series of blood injections. Their blood will be tested at intervals for presence of antibodies traceable to the injections. The antibodies discovered then will become the focus of further experiments.

During World War II, hundreds of Stateville inmates voluntarily took part in research on anti-malarial drugs. Sentences of some of them subsequently were shortened, partly on this account.

W.S.C.S. SUPPER
MT. MORRIS—Wednesday evening, Aug. 12, the W.S.C.S. of the Methodist church will meet at the church. Mrs. H. S. Evans will lead the devotion, and Mrs. W. R. Bates will present the program topic which is "Our Father's Temple."

The pot luck supper will be served at the usual hour of 6 p.m. Mrs. A. L. Davidson and her committee will have charge.

District Needs Two Teachers For Full Staff

AMBOY — Community 272 schools will open day, Sept. 11, with a tea meeting from 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. in the high school and a meeting of the bus drivers at 2 p. m. also in the school.

Students will attend for the first time Wednesday, Sept. 2, for a half-day session. Buses will run their regular routes for that day, both for children to school and turning them. Thursday, Sept. 3, will be the first full school day and will be the day that kindergarten children will report for class.

Physical Exams
As previously announced, first, fifth and ninth grade students must have complete physical examinations before the first day of school.

The Amboy high school a boy Central grade school class will open Tuesday, Sept. 8. The book exchanges in the school and in the Central will be open Aug. 31, Sept. 2.

All the schools which were closed during the 1952-1953 year will be operated for a school year, with the exception of Temperance Hill which has closed. The usual summer maintenance program has been buildings for fall. In addition, number of rooms at Central school, Maytown school at classrooms and the old school high school have been added. The Maytown school lighting system will be newly done. Heating system there has been paired and altered. One has been added to the traction system to service the school area.

Two Vacancies
Two teaching vacancies exist in the Amboy schools — a journalism teacher in the school and sixth, seventh and eighth grade teacher for Mt. Morris. Among those recently here are Wayne Sturm to football and track and as basketball, and teach science and physical education. Thomas Good to teach administration courses and in athletics; Margery Black teach home economics; James McCoy to teach second grades in Maytown; Goldie Gigous to teach fourth and fifth grades in town.

The final complete listing of teachers and employees issued immediately preceding opening of school.

Ogle CAP Lists Plans for Dance

POLO — A marching unit Ogle Squadron Civil Air cadets was in the centennial parade in Mendota Sunday afternoon to represent Ogle CAP.

The Illinois Office of Civil Defense has sent a special film will be shown during the session at the CAP dance Saturday night, Aug. 15, in the block at the airport base. The film includes the episode "One Bomb, One City," directed by Edward Murrow. There is both square and formal dancing at the airport. CAP officials feel that all square dance units come and form their own units.

Communists Order Rail Tieup in All of France

New Strikes to Cripple Business and Transport

PARIS (AP)—Rail traffic was snarled throughout France today as a new Communist-ordered transport strike began to creep across the nation. Once more the workers fought Premier Joseph Laniel's economy decrees.

Other walkouts threatened and it appeared that France faced a second gigantic tieup like that last week when two million workers in state and municipal services and government-run industries quit their jobs.

The new tieup was launched by the Communist-led CGT National Confederation of Labor which called its 270,000-member railwaymen off their jobs. The non-Communist Socialist Workers' Forces (FO) went along on the walkout.

Most of last week's walkouts were for 24 to 48 hours. This time no limit was set by the CGT.

Control Rail Workers
The FO and the Christian Trade Federation (CFTC) control the rest of the country's 440,000 railway workers. Thus far, there was no indication what the CFTC would do.

The CGT said the aims of the strike were higher salaries and an all-out war on the government decrees, which it described as hitting at the privileges and social benefits of civil servants.

In Paris, many of the big train terminals were closed. Some were open but had no trains operating. There were indications that the strike would spread to the city's subway and bus system.

Reports from throughout the country indicated that the strike was increasing in effectiveness. Near Limoges, in southwestern France, 15 trains carrying 15,000 persons were blocked. Welfare services scurried to round up food for children among the stranded passengers.

Three Trains Blocked
The last three trains that left Clermont-Ferrand in south-central France also were blocked en route. Through trains were halted at Bordeaux. In Le Havre — port city for transatlantic liners — the walkout was reported to have completely shut down transport.

A new, large-scale strike in the government-run gas and electricity industries was also feared. It already had begun in Nice, on the vacation-crowded Riviera.

The nationwide postal, telephone and telegraph (PTT) tieup was in its seventh day. The lack of mail service, crippling business and commercial transactions, was expected soon to force many industrial establishments to close.

Planes and ships had not yet been hit by the strike, but there was a possibility of a port strike beginning at Marseilles.

Issue Threats
The government "requisitioned" the PTT employees, ordering them to return to work or lose their jobs.

In general, however, the employees ignored the orders.

The government decrees, aimed at lifting France's government from the morass of near-bankruptcy, include a provision placing some nationalized industries, including the railroads, under the same retirement system as government office workers.

In general the measure would add about five years to the time workers must serve before they can retire.

Moscow Sees Danger in Allied Pact

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio today interpreted the pledge of prompt resistance to any new Red aggression in Korea—signed by the United States and 15 allies—as giving South Korean President Syngman Rhee a green light to scuttle the truce.

The agreement, disclosed last Friday, was initiated by all the U. N. members with fighting forces in the truce-bound peninsula. It declared they "should be united and prompt to resist" any renewal "of the armed attack" in Korea.

The Russian broadcast said "This declaration invites the inference that any armed provocation by the Syngman Rhee clique could be sufficient for the frustration of the Korean armistice."

The 16-power declaration expressed determination to seek in good faith a Korean settlement and warned that the "consequences of a breach of the armistice would be so grave that, in all probability, it would not be possible to confine hostilities within the frontiers of Korea."

POW Sees Americans Bayoneted

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea—(AP)—An American from Bayonne, N. J., said after release from the Communists today that he saw "with his own eyes" Red soldiers bayonet stragglers in a column of captives marching north.

Pfc. Richard W. Godlewski, 20, was captured Feb. 13, 1951, while with the 2nd Division. Godlewski was marched to the camp with a group of 500 men. Only 250 arrived.

"On the march up," he said "they bayoneted a lot. I saw that with my own eyes. A guy would fall out and a guard would drop back and you'd hear the guy scream."

"A couple of times I was at the end of the column and I saw it myself."

"A lot died of starvation," he said.

Quakes Rock Greece for Third Day

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Earthquakes shook the islands of Western Greece for the third successive day today, causing heavy damage.

One quake early today destroyed all the houses in the village of Samis, on Cephalonia Island. No details of any casualties were given in a message received by the Ministry of Interior.

Tremors were also felt in Patras, one of Greece's largest cities, in the Northern Peloponnese, but no damage or casualties were reported.

Another quake reportedly demolished all buildings left in Port Ithaca (population 8,000). On Ithaca Island, early today, nine people were injured.

The island already has suffered severe damage in the first quake on Sunday.

Stock Buyers Show Increase Despite Wails

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Brokers may wail about the many discouraging days this year when folks don't seem to be buying stocks. But some leading corporations report that the number of persons registered as owning their stock has actually increased since the first of the year.

The New York Stock Exchange estimates that more than 200,000 new owners of shares in its listed companies were added last year. The trend appears to be continuing despite the slow trading days, which often have been below the break-even point at which stock brokers can make enough in commissions to cover operating expenses. They contend they lose money on anything less than a million-share trading day.

Number Increases
A number of big corporations say their own experience indicates that more and more Americans are becoming owners of industry.

Stock splits tend to accept the spread of ownership. So far this year more than 50 companies have approved stock splits, well ahead of the number at the same time last year.

Ownership spreading works this way: If a company splits its stock two for one, theoretically the resulting split share should be worth just one half as much. That is, each new share represents just half as much of the company's assets as the old share did. In practice, the price often rises above this half-way mark because traders think the company's prospects must be good.

Dues, Cost Less
The new share, however, does cost less than the old, and thus automatically falls into a range more people can afford. More people can, and usually do, buy it.

Du Pont reports that it now has 144,526 individuals registered as stock owners. This is an increase of 17,961 since the first of the year, and a gain of 22,837 in the last 18 months.

Biggest group of stockholders are the 1,220,509 registered with American Telephone & Telegraph, a gain of 171,076 in the last 18 months.

Texas has an annual mean temperature of 71 degrees in the south, 56 degrees in the north—a range from sub-tropical to temperate.

Malenkov Gets Plenty of Mileage From 2-Hour Talk

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's Premier Malenkov got a lot of mileage out of his 2-hour speech to the Supreme Soviet.

He pushed any hope for a German settlement further into the dim future and used the German issue to try to drive a wedge between France and its Western Allies.

This was in addition — among other things — to promising the Russian people a better living standard and suggesting that Russia may have the hydrogen bomb. Eisenhower in his April 16 speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors challenged Russia to prove any peaceful intentions it might have by deeds. As an example, he suggested Russian agreement to a free, united Germany.

Propose Meeting
Secretary of State Dulles and the foreign ministers of France and Britain met here in July. At the end of their session they invited Russia's foreign minister Molotov to meet with them somewhere later. This country made plan it wanted to discuss unification of Germany and free elections in which the united German people could choose a government for the whole country.

On Aug. 4 the U. S. received a Russian note which seemed to say they'd be willing to talk about Germany but suggested the big thing to discuss was "measures to reduce international tensions."

Malenkov's speech last Saturday spelled out what it meant: This country's armament program and military alliances. He cited the North Atlantic Alliance by name. He showed he wants the West to abandon the idea of having Germany in the West European Defense Community, an arrangement still to be put into effect under which Germany could have troops in a unified West European army.

Wants Them Disarmed
And Malenkov made it pretty clear he wants a disarmed Germany.

A disarmed Germany would be like a race track across which the Russians could dash unopposed to attack the West. But a rearmament of Germany, if allied with the West,

Petticoat Squad Joins Drive on Missouri Speeders

CLARKSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—A petticoat squad has joined the police force of this northeastern Missouri town in an effort to crack down on traffic violators.

Thirteen women, all members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, are on the force. The women met recently with the City Council to declare war on traffic violators. One suggestion was to commission women as police officers. Mayor M. F. Duvall took them up on the idea.

Excise Taxes Are 'Cockeyed': Weeks

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks says the whole system of federal excise taxation is "antiquated and cockeyed and in particular soaks small business."

Weeks, speaking Monday night to the National Retail Jewelers Association, said the system requires a thorough overhauling and that the administration is hard at work on the project.

Sen. Douglas Scoffs at Claims of Senator Martin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) today labeled as "the most far-fetched thing I've ever heard" Republican claims of credit for prosperity at home and the truce in Korea.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.) made the claims in a nationwide telecast Monday night lauding the record of the new administration and the first session of the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress.

Martin said the Korean War was "the No. 1" problem facing the GOP regime when it took over from the Democrats in January. He declared that it was met by "a refreshing toughness" in foreign affairs which "touched off an amazing chain of events."

Cites First Move

The first move, Martin said, was Eisenhower's order to the U. S. 7th Fleet to quit shielding Red China against possible attacks from Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces on Formosa.

Results of the new policy, narrators on the telecast said, included the exchange of wounded prisoners in Korea, the Korean truce, anti-Communist riots in East Germany, desertion by Communist fliers, and the release of William Oatis, Associated Press

Adlai Says Tito Sees Peace Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai Stevenson says Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia believes there are good prospects for a period of peace in Europe.

Writing in the current issue of Look magazine on his current round-the-world tour, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1952 said that Tito believes that with Stalin out of the way, the Kremlin's new leaders are adjusting their policy to cope with rapidly growing unrest within the Soviet empire and to reduce tensions abroad.

Tito favors 4-power talks with Russia, Stevenson wrote, but believes any relaxation of our defense effort would be foolish.

Stevenson summarized his impression of Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia as follows:

"Today, the free Balkans are solid and strong. Greece and Turkey are ready to give a good account of themselves against any aggression. Thanks to Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, the West has driven a bridgehead into eastern Europe. Where, a few years ago, it looked as though all were lost in the eastern Mediterranean, the Soviet leaders now face a mighty threat to the left flank of armies headed for the Atlantic."

Joe Louis' real name is Joseph Louis Bartow. He was born in 1914, near Lexington, Ala.

Red Chinese Army Is Big League Now; It Alters Balance of Power in World

NEW ARMY OF RED CHINA, suddenly gone modern, carries more automatic weapons per platoon than ours, marches with up-to-date smartness like these soldiers near Kaesong, Korea.

By FRED SPARKS
EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—(NEA)—Perhaps this is the most important fact of our century: A bitterly anti-American Chinese army, for the first time since spears went out of fashion, has graduated into the big league. That army took a two-year training course on the battlefield during the truce talks.

The new Chinese Red army has completely altered the balance of power in the world against us. Our European allies are now faced with a four-million man Russian army and our Asiatic allies are now faced with a four-million man Chinese army.

This frightful fact is obvious as we carefully comb the combat records during this time of the truce. Tagging the 167th Airborne Regiment during our last major push of this war—June, 1951—I saw good evidence that the Chinese were falling apart like a balding man's pigtail.

They had little artillery, no transport but peasants' backs, and hardly one anti-aircraft gun to worry our planes, which picked at them like mosquitoes at a sick cow.

Thousands crawled in, whimpering for mercy, dizzy as drunks from shell shock, hungry enough to fire and eat the skinny Korean crows.

Then came the truce talks and two years of yo yo war. General Mao received vast shipments of fresh killing instruments and instructors from Russia. His Chopsticks practiced and perfected modern murderous methods on our young men. Every general and GI here believe they graduated with honors.

In the fall of 1950 I was a fox-hole guest of the 7th Marine Regiment sweeping the last drippings of the North Korean Army into the Yalu. Then—like an iron bar on the skull—we were hit one night by a shrieking mass of Chinese.

They circled around blowing horns and beating gongs. In the morning Leathernecks curiously examined captured Chinese as our brains tried to comprehend that there was a new foe by the millions.

That the regiment survived was due not only to the spirit that powers every Marine but also to the primitive weapons and rice paddy mentality of those first Peking powder.

In the last several weeks before the truce was inked I again studied a Chinese attack minus music. Our positions were first pulped by brilliantly-manned artillery—more than we owned.

The Chinese footpads shifted in behind their shells with more automatic weapons per platoon than the U. S. Army. In every way the attack would have delighted the fussiest West Point instructor.

Surely if the Oriental gentlemen of 1950 had clamped a scissor-hold on the 7th Marines with the muscle and know-how of 1953, my Leatherneck trenchmates and I would now be mere names on yellowing obituary pages.

You can now ask: "Haven't we also learned much since '51?"

Answer: "Negative."

A jet jockey, shedding the corset that keeps his stomach from stretching like pulled taffy during a 700 MPH dive, said: "When the champ is always matched against a third seeded tennis player, the third seeder improves and the champ drops off."

While the Chinese passed their two-year course, they're just moving into our class. Even if only equal they're a worry, for they bridge the difference with bodies. A citizen of Shanghai doesn't write his congressman a beef about high casualties.

And remember: It is our prayer not to have to stand eternal guard in the Orient. President Eisenhower dreams of training our Asiatic chums to do their own sentry duty.

OLD-STYLE CHINESE ARMY, in days before truce talks he was exemplified by this sorry specimen captured by Yanks. RED CHINESE ARMY IS BIG LEAGUE

As Peking's power zooms that a Chinese must rank Colonel his hair grow longer than fingernail.

We have no right to believe China, which usually takes a and years to make up its mind suddenly junk communism, day the Chinese soldier is a political commissar the U.S.A. is responsible for a including scarlet fever.

If we continue to play polo in the Free Orient the new C Army is something for American to worry about.

Save Woman Who Leaped From Ferry

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—A dramatic lifeboat rescue was in mid-Lake Michigan 2 night when a woman jumped board from the top deck car ferry Milwaukee Clipper.

The Auburn-haired woman identified as June Blackly, Chicago, by the clipper's c. Allen Hoxie.

Capt. Hoxie, who describes woman as apparently despondent, said hundreds of the ship's sengers witnessed the leap. were 900 passengers aboard Clipper on a regularly scheduled run from Milwaukee.

Hoxie immediately ordered engines reversed and love lifeboat.

The woman was picked up 20 minutes later, he said, and revived by artificial respiration. Hackley Hospital authorities reported her condition "Good."

Henry L. Stimson was the man in U.S. history to serve cabinets of four presidents: Hoover, Roosevelt and Truman.

American Boys Defied Reds, Found God in Prison Camps

By FRED SPARKS
INCHON, Korea—(NEA)—They tried to deny God to our young men in Communist prison camps, but they didn't succeed.

In secret meetings recalling early Christians in Roman caves, American soldiers in Red custody displayed their faith with none of the comforts offered the occasional Sunday church-goer back home. In an ugly Chinese compound at Pyoktong one Sunday, a group gathered to sing "Onward Christian Soldiers."

A Communist guard approached, fingering his pistol, and as Warrant Officer Dwight Cox of Fresno, Calif., remembers it now: "I never saw a man so furious in my life. I thought sure he would shoot us. He screamed at us like a hysterical animal."

Later, in a strange form of defiance, the men gathered again in a lonesome part of the camp and held a service without audible words, looking at each other with moving lips as they read from tattered Army Bibles hidden during their capture.

As Americans released from Communist cells pour into this port city after hasty greetings at Panmunjom and Munsan, they tell endless tales of religious conviction made stronger by denial.

Cox told of two chaplains, one Catholic, one Protestant, who suffered countless privations to try again and again to hold proper services. "The Reds accused them of being agitators and propagandists. Both chaplains, under 35 and strapping physical specimens, died under strange circumstances."

After the chaplains died, GIs with no formal training presided over clandestine gatherings while friends kept watch for English-speaking guards.

Men would stand around on Sunday mornings as if they were having a bull session and sing in a sort of whispered murmur:

"Holy, Holy, Holy,
"Lord, God Almighty,
"Early in the morning
"Our soul shall rise to thee."

It wasn't until after the truce talks began that the Communists stopped trying to block religious demonstrations. They gave the prisoners no material aid, but allowed them to gather on holidays for prayer.

Among the lay preachers who arose in this strange situation was Sgt. James Davis of Mullins, S. C., who will be known for all time as "Brother Jim." He came back to the American lines on a stretcher, a sick youth, but until his collapse he not only presided at services but also would be called from bed at all hours to visit the ill and depressed.

Brother Jim had a magnificent way of praying with stricken men, giving them something to hold on to. After weeks of pleading, he was allowed to go outside the barbed wire to say a few words at the shallow graves of the too many young men who succumbed to diseases they could not battle on the meager prison diet.

A slight, medium-sized man, Brother Jim would preach quiet sermons to comrades of all denominations while an English-speaking Chinese guard stood by with a fat notebook.

It was not a polished text Brother Jim spoke, but he always plugged the line of hope. He talked one day in an open field in sub-zero weather about the resurrection of the Lord and how the hungry, shabby Americans could come back to a new and greater world.

It must have been a sight to see them—Brother Jim standing on a mound of frozen dirt while his friends huddled together in thin garments with sports sneakers their only protection against the snow.

Over Brother Jim's head, silhouetted against the cold sky, was not a cross but a tower with the warning snout of a machine gun trained on the congregation.

At Inchon, I saw returnees awkward in fresh uniforms and tan oxfords shuffle into the day room past a jazzing radio for their first regular service. Chaplain William Downey of Temple, N. H., began with words that all of us in the hall of returned prisoners felt deeply.

"I feel so humble," the chaplain said, "before you who have suffered so much. He suffered too. He said, 'I walked through the shadow of death.' You have walked through the shadow of death, and God was with you."

Then Chaplain Downey asked if anybody wanted a special hymn. Sgt. Junior Dunlap, of McCorkle, W. Va., a tall, handsome dark-haired boy who had been a POW for 32 months and eight days, requested "Amazing Grace."

With a deep fulness never heard in a church back home, the returnees sang the words: "... how sweet the sound that saved a wretch like me."

Then the service was over, and the boys who knew they were really back gathered around the chaplain.

"The Lord really brought us through," Sgt. Dunlap said, softly.

Strong Cleansing Agents Can Harm Hair, Says Medic

CHICAGO—Wash that dirt right out of your hair.

Washing the hair per se will not result in hair damage, a medical consultant wrote in the current Journal of the American Medical Association. But, if strong cleansing agents are used consistently, the hair and scalp may become excessively dry.

"Years ago, cleansing agents were more often alkaline than they are today, and inferior shampooing results were not rare," the consultant stated.

"There are few persons who find it necessary to wash the hair more than twice a week. The average person in a city may require shampoos once a week. Wetting the hair for grooming purposes is not harmful."

"The type of detergent used in a particular shampoo is a trade secret, unless the manufacturer wishes to disclose it. Some shampoos contain both a soap and a synthetic detergent product. The most satisfactory criterion for determining shampoo action is to experiment with several reputable brands until one is found that suits the individual needs. This experimentation will not result in serious hair damage. The most that will occur is temporary excessive dryness and such cosmetic disadvantages as inferior manageability and hair gloss."

"In general, synthetic detergents are efficient cleansers, and some would not be suitable for any but extremely oily hair; however, by the addition of certain chemicals, cleansing ability can be decreased, and a product can be produced that is satisfactory for dry and average hair."

"When excessive dryness of the hair persists despite a change in shampoos, other causes should be investigated. Over-processing during permanent waving is a common cause of brittleness and dryness of hair. The possibility of organic causes also should be considered."

Men! Now's Time for An Attack!

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — Men need a Christian Dior, a bold fellow to restore the male feeling of being quite a guy.

Us gents are in a male quandary. We either have to expose more of our charms or retreat to the soft anonymity of the sleeping bag.

As I read the front line reports from the great style war in Paris, women don't know whether to throw away their corsets or keep them, elevate their skirts to their knees or go ahead and protect their thick upper ankles, expose their bosoms more or try to throw another layer on those they have rented or bought.

Now's The Time!
It seems to me that in this moment of feminine doubt men should move in and take over their old peacock strut. Let man again be king of fashions, as he once was.

I do not advocate long stockings, tight pants, and lace at the throat, although George Washington and Thomas Jefferson were robust and masculine in such attire. As a matter of recent history, some people feel that a gent doesn't represent his sex fully unless he has worn khaki. That's unfair, because a lot couldn't.

It might just as well be the other way around. Why shouldn't a woman feel uneasy if she has never worn the uniform of her country?

That is the pattern of some nations. Certainly no woman who believes in equal rights can deny today how much happier her life will be if she has only won the approval of a lady top sergeant for the way she can strip down a machine gun or make a bed.

That used to be the thing in the Army that separated the men from the boys. Why in days to come shouldn't it be the test that separates the girls from the women?

Man's Problem
The problem for men is to win equal rights in the world of fashions. For example, why shouldn't women worry about how far we bare our chests? Wouldn't they fret about this problem if men were courageous enough to make it a problem?

The main idea is not to stir the girls up by showing them that men have their fashions too. Let's show 'em that while knighthood is always in flower—it can change its blooms. They've taken men for granted too long.

'Good' Driver Should Not Get Preferred Rate

URBANA - CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (Special)—The automobile driver who goes year after year without an accident is the typical driver and therefore should not expect preferential insurance rates, a University of Illinois economist said today, discussing the merit rating plan for automobile insurance.

Prof. Robert I. Mehr, in charge of the University's insurance curriculum, is of the opinion that the 10 to 15 per cent of the drivers who are accident-prone should be placed in a classification by themselves and made to pay a much higher rate—though it might be simpler to keep them off the highways. Such a classification could not be developed in one, two or even three years and would be difficult to administer, he believes.

Studying the opposition to and defense of the "no-claim discount" policy, he reaches the conclusion that it would be more realistic to reward the no-claim drivers on a yearly basis—out of profits—rather than by loading the rate to pay the dividend. Such a reward would be variable from year to year depending on experience during the dividend period.

World News in Pictures

BAVARIAN JOUST, 1953 STYLE—Gay trappings, courageous steeds and two gallant knights meet in a challenge of strength in Landshut, Bavaria. The medieval tourney is part of the authentic color which recaptures history as the city celebrates its festival "Landshut Royal Wedding." The play is held every three years to celebrate the wedding of Duke Georg, the Rich to the Polish Princess Hedwig in 1475.

THE RIGHT STEER—This mailman finds it's easy on the feet as he services his suburban route near Toledo, Ohio, because he's got the first American car in 30 years to feature a right-hand drive. It's a Jeep-type car made to order for the U. S. Post Office Department by Willys Motors. The postman doesn't have to leave his seat to drop off the mail. This time-saving operation promises substantial savings for the Post Office Department.

BIG PUSH—Participating in a two-day whirlwind grading operation, some of the 125 earth-mov machines involved do their stuff at Gardena, Calif. Clearing of the 10-acre factory site would have taken three to four weeks in a normal operation, but 30 cooperating excavating companies did the job in record time. The operation was bossed by eight superintendents, using walkie-talkie radios.

FOR GERMAN MEN?—Two Germans model attire recommended for men by a West Berlin firm. The dark blue pop-line turf jacket, left, is challenged by the companion "ball coat."

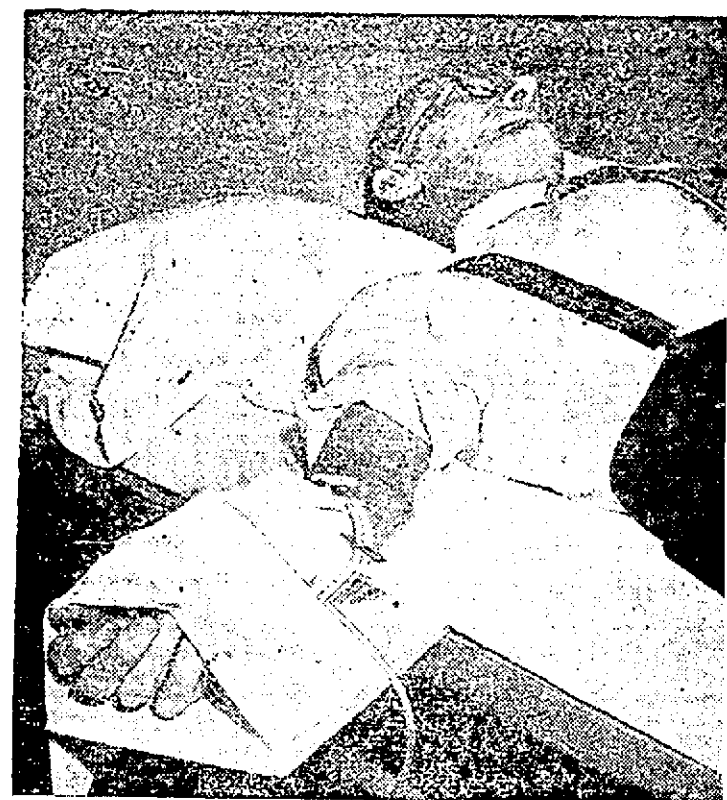

REFRESHING PAUSE—Dr. Karl Herrikolfer takes time off to relax and have a swig of Bavarian beer upon his return to Munich, Germany. He is the leader of the German Himalaya expedition, which conquered Nanga Parbat (Naked Goddess) Mountain.

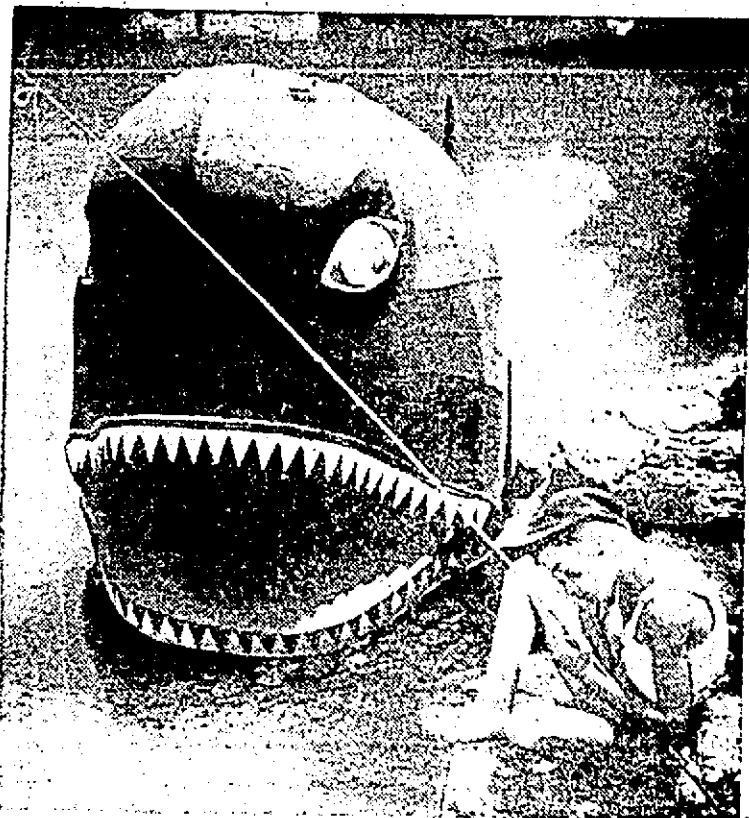

CLOUDY CLIPPING—George Parker, Pasadena, Calif., barber, nampers his customers with a "clipper chair." After a shave, this customer remarked it was "like shaving on a cloud."

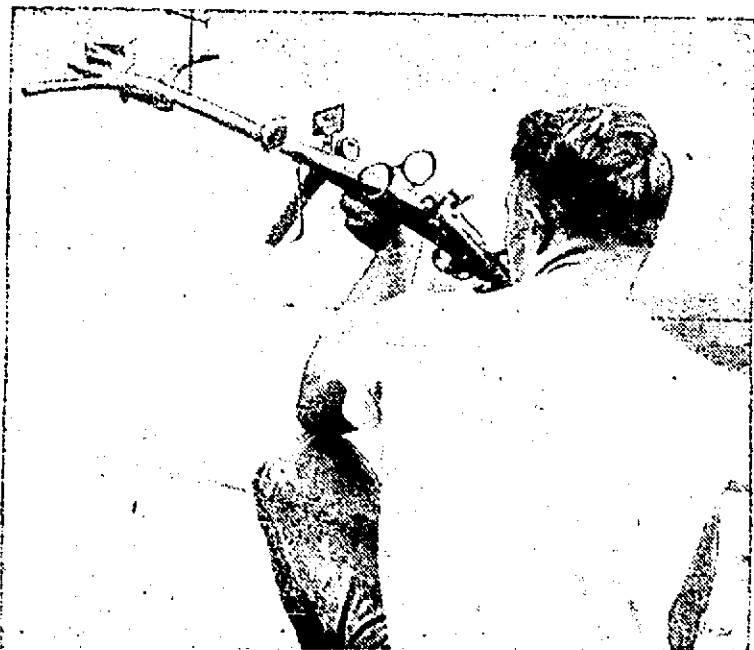

PINT-SIZE WORKERS—Follow the leader is great fun for these miniature construction workers in Chicago, Ill. However, the foreman continues to work hard despite the voluntary help of his "building crew." If he stopped to play he'd never finish his project.

TAPPED TWICE A WEEK—Ed Kibbe gives up a pint of blood at one of his twice-weekly visits to a hospital in Lora O. Kibbe has abnormally active bone marrow, which produces blood at the rate of a pint a day. That's two pints a week, much. Because the bone marrow can't renew itself, the 58-year-old factory janitor must go to nearby Cleveland Clinic for a drip of atomic medicine every six weeks.

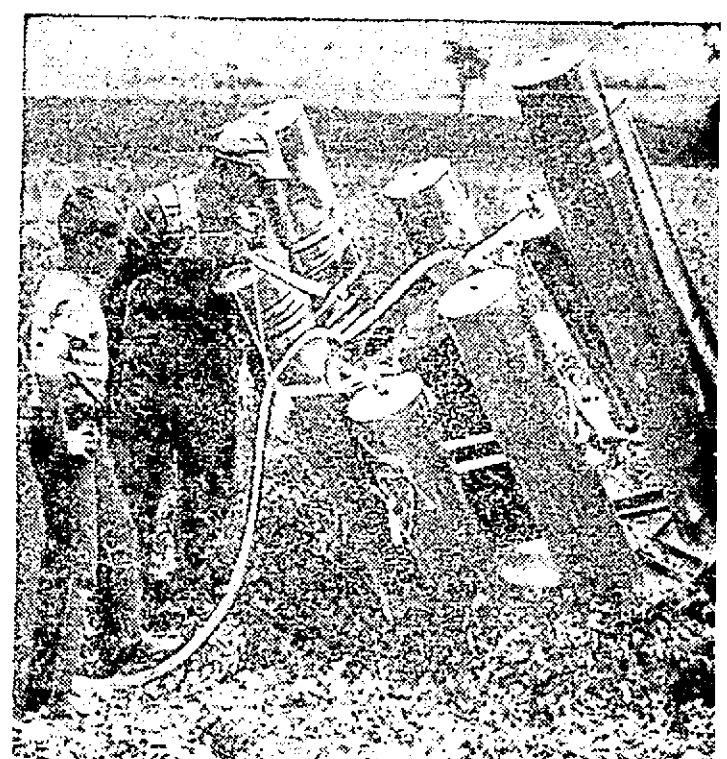

HE'LL LOOK DOWN IN THE MOUTH—A whale of a surprise awaits this young fisherman when he awakes from his nap beside a lake in a Roman exhibition. Actually, the fearsome "fish" is an inflated rubber toy, placed there by practical jokers.

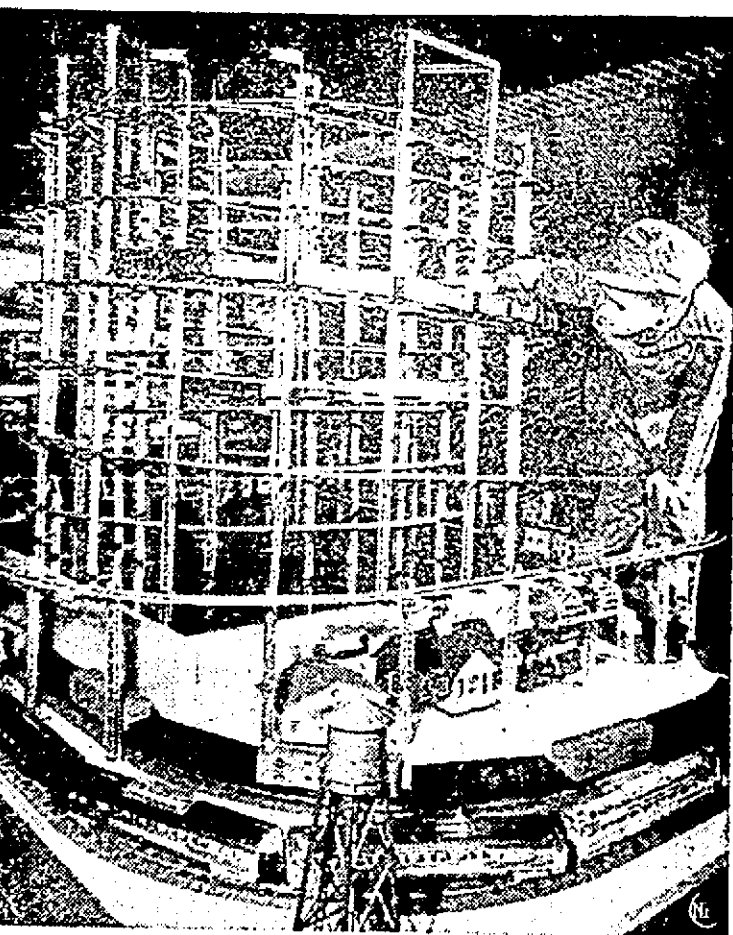

HOW CAN YOU MISS?—Bill Wiehr, of Sheboygan, Wis., demonstrates a highly versatile gun which is sure to bag game in one way or another. The muzzle-loader can shoot around a tree to get an elusive bird, and if one barrel misses, the other barrel is ready to fire. It has a built-in watch, thermometer, weather vane, mirror, spectacles for better sighting, and a knife for skinning the catch. A compass keeps the hunter on the trail, and if he's still unsuccessful in bagging any game, there's a can opener so he won't starve.

DON'T DRIBBLE—Blanche Foltz, a Pentagon secretary, displays a new item designed to keep the U. S. safe. It is a napkin to be distributed in all Pentagon building restaurants. The napkin warns that "lips must be locked" for the nation's security.

NO SAUCERY HERE—Farmers in the vicinity of Calumet, Wis., thought they were seeing a sure 'nough flying saucer when this contraption sailed through the sky suspended from a parachute. It floated down on the Clayton Miller farm where farm discovered a tag identifying the weird equipment as the property of the University of Minnesota and the U. S. Navy.

HERE COMES ENGINE NO. 29—This complex structure on display at a New York toy exhibit offers new fascination for model railroad enthusiasts. Brian Allen, 6, properly dressed for the job watches the model trains make a spiral climb up the tower.

HANDY-CYCLE—French inventor Charles Duval, above, thinks he's solved a big problem for cyclists. He claims that leg-muscle strain can be eased by switching to hand pedals which he has mounted on his bike's handlebars. Or, if you prefer to make like a jet, you can use both hand and foot pedals to increase your speed. The gadget is one of many shown at the annual inventors' exhibit in Paris.

KEEPS 'EM IN STITCHES—Seaman Robert Simser, of Toronto, Canada, uses his spare time while on sea duty to embroider a cushion cover. He's serving aboard the Canadian navy ship Athabaskan, which is taking part in operations off the coast of Korea.

RUBBER NECK—This modernistic mural containing small individual scenes made in the shape of a giraffe and painted on the wall of a new boarding house is stepping many residents' (Munich, Germany). Along the left side of the giraffe's neck are the words: "God Save This House From Bombs and Taxes."

Korean Truce Will Have Little Effect on Draftees

By RAY HENRY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite the halt in Korean fighting, the burden of required military service on the nation's young men hasn't changed.

Those in uniform can't expect to get out ahead of time. Those awaiting military call can expect to serve as long as if the fighting had continued.

To back up this outlook, Defense Department and Selective Service officials said in interviews Monday.

Unchanged Calls

Draft calls will go out at about the same rate as had been planned before the shooting stopped—between 19,000 and 23,000 calls during each of the next 11 months.

No plans have been made to shorten present tours of active duty, except for surplus officers on voluntary tours.

The demand from the armed forces for reenlistments and enlistments will remain about the same, or greater.

There are no plans to ease deferment policies.

Defense Planning

At the root of this situation is the nation's defense planning, which calls for continuing the armed forces at nearly the Korean War level—a 3,300,000 total. This figure does represent a cut of about 200,000 men in the size of the armed forces between now and next July 1. But it's a cut which was planned long before the Korean truce and will not be reflected by changes in today's manpower needs.

The Korean truce will make only one essential change in the military manpower picture. A 50,000-man cut in the size of the Army and a 5,000-man cut in the Marine Corps are planned which otherwise wouldn't have been made. These stem from a reduction in combat replacements that were needed to keep an effective fighting force in Korea.

To some degree, the 50,000 cut in the Army's strength will be reflected in smaller draft calls. Just when and how, however, is an open question now. This accounts for the scheduled draft calls for the coming months varying between 19,000 and 23,000 men.

Size of Forces

Taking into account the 55,000 reduction, the planned sizes of the four armed forces by next July 1 are: Army, 1,370,000; Navy, 745,000; Air Force, 980,000; Marine Corps, 225,000.

To maintain these forces, about 875,000 men will have to enlist, enlist or be drafted to replace men who will complete their tours of service by next July 1. Plans include the drafting of about 275,000 men, the reenlistment of 220,000 men and the enlistment of about 300,000.

In discussing these figures, the Defense Department pointed out that they are only estimates. What the actual figures will be only time will tell.

Each year, approximately 10,000,000 tons of wood are consumed in making paper, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

It is estimated that nearly 2,800 languages are spoken in the world today.

Man, 81, Falls From Tree, Dies

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—James J. McPhillips, 81, Joliet, was fatally injured Monday when he fell 40 feet from a ladder while trimming a tree in his yard. McPhillips was being assisted in the tree-trimming by his brother, Hugh, 76, when the accident occurred.

Tiny cannibalistic spiders that live by eating each other have been found at elevations of 23,000 feet on Mount Everest, 4,000 feet above the limit for plant life.

At present the Bartleys are hunting a proper New York apartment or suburban house in which to settle down for the winter—if the new play is a success, that is. The children are still in Hollywood, in care of their nurse, waiting impatiently to join their parents in New York.

Don't be SKINNY

Amazing New Easy Way Quickly Puts Pounds and Inches Firm Solid Flesh On Scrawny Figures

NO CRAMMING WITH SUGARY TONICS. NO FISHY OILS. NO RICH FOODS YOU HATE

NOT A MEDICINE! NOT MERELY VITAMINS! INSTEAD A BRAND NEW CONCENTRATED FOOD WITH EASIER TO DIGEST SUPER CALORIES

If you are skinny, thin and underweight, try this latest discovery of modern medical science. It's called WATE-ON and anyone in normal health may quickly gain 5 lbs. in one week, 10 pounds, 20 pounds and more so fast it's amazing. This isn't candy, it's not a fishy oil. Instead WATE-ON is a new HOMOGENIZED liquid that's pleasant to take after meals and is loaded with concentrated calories so prepared as to be far easier to be used by the system in building wonderful body weight. Checks fill out, neck and bust-line gain, arms, legs, thighs, ankles... skinny underweight figures fill out all over the body into graceful curves that draw admiring glances. WATE-ON, too, gives quick energy and often causes a marked increase in appetite. And you can test WATE-ON yourself simply by taking the first step and get a bottle of WATE-ON today.

Gosh, Jean, you sure are popular since you put on those extra pounds!

Easy Weight Gains of 5 Pounds in 7 Days Reported

DOCTORS—Your recommendation and approval is invited. Write for professional samples.

More Than Many A Meal in Daily Dose

Each daily dosage is as rich in calories as many a skinnier person's regular meal.

For Men, Women, Boys, Girls and Convalescents

WATE-ON is entirely safe, contains no narcotics, stimulants, nothing but HOMOGENIZED liquid, is pleasant to take after meals and is loaded with concentrated calories.

EAT WEIGHT MAINTAINING MEALS and Take WATE-ON

While WATE-ON often increases the appetite, its main function is to provide supplemental meals with a source of concentrated, high potency calories for easier for the body to use in putting on weight.

Want an attractive well rounded figure in a few quick weeks? Then simply supplement weight maintaining meals with WATE-ON... put firm good looking healthy flesh on face, neck, bust, arms, hips, thighs, legs and ankles. Why be skinny... why let life slip by without trying WATE-ON. If condition persists, see your doctor.

EXCEEDS MANY A MEAL

Entirely new, entirely different but already highly publicized WATE-ON isn't merely vitamins, minerals, fat or sugar that can do more harm than good in building firm flesh. WATE-ON is an amazing nutritional formula, a new HOMOGENIZED emulsion, that's delicious to take after meals yet is so concentrated with weight building calories a daily dosage exceeds many a skinnier person's meal itself. And WATE-ON's calories are more readily digested, as to use calories that make the face fill out, the figure improve. So now, today, determine to try WATE-ON yourself.

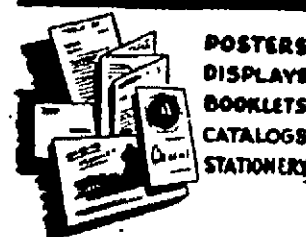

TRY AMAZING NEW WATE-ON TODAY! FULL PINT Only $3.00

Survey Shows Cost of Being Student at U. of Illinois

URBANA - CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (Special) — What does it cost to attend the University of Illinois? The answer: for men, $814 to $1,374 a year, for women, $913 to $1,316, according to a survey of 522 undergraduate men and 557 women made by Edward E. Stafford, dean of men, with the cooperation of Miss Miriam Sheldon, dean of women.

These costs were recorded during the past two-semester school year. For the coming year, add $25 because of increases in University fees.

The survey indicates that freshmen spend $50 more than those in following years. Lowest expenses are for students living in cooperative houses, and highest for those in fraternities or sororities.

Add To Income
Students in all groups added to income from home with money earned during summers, in part-time jobs at the University, from scholarships, savings, loans, and, for men, payments by the federal government in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps program. The average hours for part-time student work were 16 per week for men, and 15 for women.

Average amounts received from parents during the year ranged from $85 for sorority women and $76 for fraternity men to $377 for coeds in cooperative houses and $222 for men in cooperative houses.

Dean Stafford concludes from the survey that "The cost of attending the University has increased considerably in recent years. Money earned by students through part-time work has risen at a similar or even greater pace. Because of opportunities for summer employment students now earn a considerable portion of their expenses by work during the summer vacation. The incomes of families with sons or daughters in the University has risen sharply with University costs."

Thirty-one per cent of the University students answering the survey came from families with annual incomes of $5,000 or less; 46 per cent, $5,000 to $10,000; 18 per cent, $10,000 to $20,000; and 5 per cent, over $20,000.

Average expenses last year were: for men—living in cooperative house, $844; in University housing units, $1,091; in independent house, $1,155; in fraternity, $1,378; for women—living in cooperative house, $913; in University housing units, $1,225; in independent house, $1,261; in sorority, $1,316.

Hold Pair For Death Of Boy, 10

LAS VEGAS — A Chicago woman and an East St. Louis man were in jail in Las Vegas today for investigation of murder in the gunshot death Sunday of 10-year-old Tommy Livingston of San Bernardino, Calif.

Officers identified the woman and man — both hitchhikers — as Edward Adams, 28, of East St. Louis, and Leonard Jessie Bristle, 21, of Chicago.

Authorities quoted Adams as saying the Livingston boy was killed accidentally during a game of Russian roulette.

Police said the lad's father, rancher Charles Livingston, picked up Adams and the Bristle woman near St. George, Utah. During a stopover in Las Vegas he left the boy and the couple in the car while he went on an errand. When he returned, officers said, Livingston found the boy dead with a bullet through his left eye.

Adams and his companion gave themselves up to police later in the day.

Police quoted Adams as telling this story:

He and young Livingston decided to play a make-believe game of Russian roulette with Adams' .22 revolver. Adams took all but one shell from the weapon and pointed it near, but not at, his head. He whirled the cylinder, but before he could pull the trigger the boy jostled his arm and the gun fired. The slug struck Tommy.

When the volcanic island, Krakatoa, blew up in 1883, the rush of air caused by the explosion wrecked houses and trees in Java 100 miles away.

The word livery, meaning a servant's uniform, originally meant an allowance of food or clothing granted to certain persons.

WOMEN'S READY-TO-WEAR

He Needed a Cook . . .

GRIMESLAND, N. C. (P)—Alex Ogburn, a Negro who lists his age as 111, and his bride of 22 are honeymooning at their farm home near here today.

Ogburn and his bride, Clyda Mae Goodard of Williams, were married at New Bern Saturday. His wife has two children by a previous marriage.

Ogburn says the "white folks" credit him with 4 children.

The aged Negro claims he was a grown man and slave during the Civil War.

"I used to be strong," he said. "Bout six or seven years ago I won a cuttin' contest with an ax down here at Washington, N. C."

Ogburn claims he married Clyda Mae because "need a woman to wash and cook up for these young'uns."

His bride had no comment.

Army's Electronic Brain Now Has a Memory, Also

ABERDEEN, Md. — (P)—The Army has patched a bigger and better memory into ENIAC, its electronic brain.

Now ENIAC can remember six times as much and make more decisions for itself, without referring to notes. ENIAC stands for Electronic Numerical Integrator and Computer.

The Army uses ENIAC, a roomful of vacuum tubes and electrical relays, to work astronomical figure problems.

For example—where do you aim an anti-aircraft gun so its shell will hit a plane which is flying so many degrees southwest, so many thousand feet away, so many thousand feet high at so many miles an hour?

Gunnery use firing tables which ENIAC helps figure out.

A team of mathematicians with ordinary office calculators might solve such problems in two weeks or two months. ENIAC can do it in a couple of days.

The figure wizards in the Army's ballistics research laboratory at Aberdeen Proving Ground, directed by Col. Alden B. Taber, have been using ENIAC since 1917.

Before getting its new eight-foot "memory box," ENIAC could remember 20 figures, as large as 9,999,999,999. Now it can remember up to 120 big numbers. The Army explains its complicated way of doing things as the first "static magnetic memory" ever used with an electronic calculator.

Manufacturer, Wife Finally Are Divorced

GALESBURG, Ill. — S. S. Battles, former vice-president of Admiral Corp., was awarded a divorce Monday in Knox County Circuit Court on the ground of desertion.

Battles and his wife finally were parted without a contest after they had filed cross complaints in Las Vegas, Nev. and Galesburg. The scene of litigation shifted from Nevada to Illinois when Mrs. Battles filed an embezzlement complaint charging her husband had misappropriated $102,000 of her personal funds. A grand jury refused to indict Battles.

Under the decree granted Battles Monday the court approved a property settlement for Mrs. Battles, awarded her the custody of their daughter, Sandra, 16, and $100 a month as Battles' support payments for the girl.

Battles was granted custody of his 19-year old son, James.
